

...Designed for transformation

Biome is engineered for adaptability, utilizing CREE's modular timber-hybrid system and open floor plan design to enable transformation, repurposing, and reuse throughout a building's lifecycle. Its flexible architecture allows spaces to be easily reconfigured for different functions or user needs, supporting upgrades and layout changes with minimal structural intervention, which extends the building's service life and reduces environmental impact.

